Windows Start screen

Depending on your product, you can use a keyboard and mouse, a touchpad, or a touch screen to navigate the Windows Start screen.

Find Settings
Select the Start button, and then select the Settings icon.

Shut down your computer
Select the Start button, select the Power icon, and then select Shut down.

Display the Start menu
Select the Start button.

Search
In the taskbar search box, select the Search icon (select products only), and then begin typing the name of an app, setting, file, or internet topic.

Switch between open apps
Select the Task view icon.

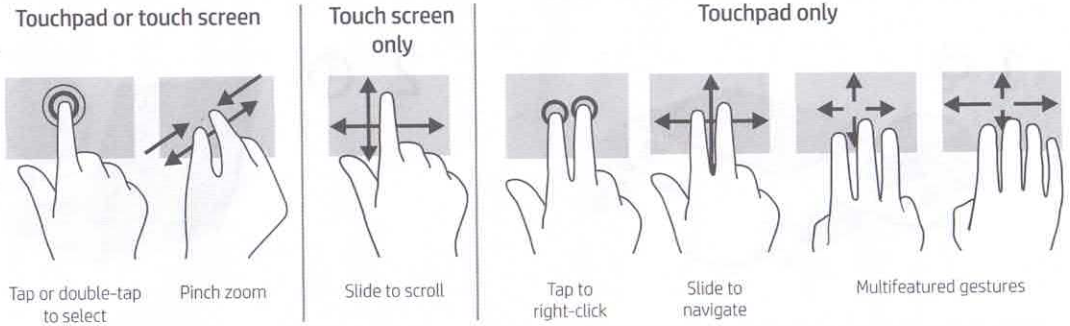
The features and appearance of the Windows screen vary, depending on the version of the operating system and additional software installed on your computer.

Locate system information

System information is provided on the service label or found in one of the following locations: the bottom of the computer, the back of the display, inside the battery bay, or beneath the service door. The label may be in paper form or imprinted on the product. In some Windows products, you can briefly press the fn+esc key combination to display the System Information screen.

Gestures for touchpad or touch screen



For details about multifeatured gestures, select Start, select Settings, select either Devices or (select products only) Bluetooth & Devices, and then select Touchpad. Some computers support a touchscreen, but some computers, apps, and files might not support all touch gestures.

WARNING: To reduce the risk of electric shock:
- Plug the power cord into an AC outlet that is easily accessible at all times.
- If the power cord has a 3-pin attachment plug, plug the cord into a grounded (earthed) 3-pin outlet.

For more safety, regulatory, labeling, and battery disposal information, see the Regulatory, Safety, and Environmental Notices provided with your user guides.
To locate the user guides for your computer, see the "Find more information" section of this poster.

WARNING: To reduce the risk of serious injury, read the Safety & Comfort Guide provided with your user guides. It describes proper workstation setup, and proper posture, health, and work habits for computer users. The Safety & Comfort Guide also provides important electrical and mechanical safety information. The Safety & Comfort Guide is also available on the web at http://www.hp.com/ergo.

WARNING: To reduce the possibility of heat-related injuries or of overheating the computer, do not place the computer directly on your lap or obstruct the computer air vents. Use the computer only on a hard, flat surface. Do not allow another hard surface, such as an adjoining optional printer, or a soft surface, such as pillows or rugs or clothing, to block airflow. Also, do not allow the AC adapter to contact the skin or a soft surface, such as pillows or rugs or clothing, during operation. The computer and the AC adapter comply with the user-accessible surface temperature limits defined by applicable safety standards.
